

Kettle Foods Consumer Class Action

Stoll Berne attorneys Keith Dubanevich and Cody Berne, along with plaintiffs' co-counsel The Keeton Firm LLC, represent a proposed consumer class for claims alleging that Kettle Foods uses deceptive and misleading practices with respect to its marketing and sale of its popular and widely distributed, Kettle Brand Chips. Plaintiffs allege that Kettle Foods uses the word "natural" to describe their chips and ingredients on their packaging and in their marketing. Plaintiffs allege that this is deceptive and misleading as there are at least two artificial ingredients thereby negating, to a reasonable consumer, that they are, in fact, "natural."
