

Partnership Dispute

Stoll Berne attorney Josh Ross represented a founding partner of a central Oregon brewery in a dispute over control of the business. Ross helped the client navigate a break-up of the business and negotiated the client's successful exit from the business.