

Defense of Pacific Continental Bank Class Action

Keith Ketterling and Tim DeJong defended Pacific Continental Bank in an Oregon class action on behalf of shareholders of the Berjac companies. Pacific Continental Bank was one of two defendant banks alleged to have aided sales of Berjac securities by providing lines of credit to Berjac that allegedly were used by Berjac to finance a Ponzi-like scheme. With the assistance of Stoll Berne, Pacific Continental Bank settled for a fraction of the amount paid by its co-defendant bank.
