

Business Organizations & Transactions

We act as general and special counsel to businesses engaged in a wide variety of industries, including real estate, finance, securities, technology, sports apparel, agriculture, and health care. Our clients include individuals, investors, and business enterprises of all kinds, from publicly held corporations to closely held businesses.

Our lawyers assist clients in the formation or acquisition of partnerships, limited liability companies and corporations, asset or equity interest dispositions, and all business needs in between. We regularly represent and advise clients about capital formation, financing, leasing, licensing, executive compensation, employment, corporate governance, change of control, business succession planning, shareholder disputes, tax planning, and regulatory compliance.
